Once upon a time there was a boy named Roy. He was 8 years old and was a naughty boy. On the weekend, Roy's dad sent Roy to visit his grandpa. He had to walk through a big forest.

A young boy with brown hair and a red shirt is looking at a large, round, golden-brown cake inside a wicker basket. The basket is lined with a white cloth and sits on a wooden table. In the background, there is a wooden cabinet and a lamp with a blue base and a yellow shade.

One day, Roy brought cake with him to visit his grandpa. On the way to his
grandpa's house,
something bad happened.

He was walking in the forest,
and he met a Tiger. The Tiger asked “Where are you going?”

Roy answered “I’m going to see my friends, the 3 little pigs” “Ok” the Tiger said.

But Roy was not going to the pigs house, he was going to his grandfather's house.

The Tiger ran to the 3 little pig's house, but on the way he saw Roy visiting another house.

So the Tiger went back to Roy and asked “Why are you not going to the Pigs house over there?”

Roy said “First I will visit my friend Michael, then I will see the three little pigs.”

“Oh” said the Tiger. So the Tiger went to Michael’s House first as well.

When the Tiger went inside
Michael's house, he didn't see Roy. He knew he had been tricked, so he was very angry.

He searched for Roy, and after a while, he found him.

The Tiger went to ask Roy “Why are you here?” He pointed to the house next to them.

“No reason”
Roy stated and then ran into the house.

The Tiger was very angry for being tricked again and chased Roy into the house,

but Roy's grandfather had a gun.
“Bang” he shot and killed the Tiger.
